Cleaning Supplies and Poison Safety

- Store household products safely to prevent poisoning. Young kids are often eye-level with items under the kitchen and bathroom sinks, so make sure household cleaning products and personal care products are up and away, out of children's reach and sight.

- Keep all household cleaning products in their original containers. Also, when buying products, look for child-resistant containers to help prevent poisoning to children .

This month with spring approaching we all love to do our spring cleaning. It is important to us to educate our families on cleaning supply safety and how we can keep our children safe. Many cleaning products can be confusing for children and may look like juice or candy. A child will not know the difference. Every 8 minutes or 64,000 times a year a young child goes to the emergency room for medicine poisoning. Here you will find some important information that will help you keep your kids safe around medicine. Join us to learn about hazards that can be in your home.

@SafeKidsPalmBeachCounty

This month with spring approaching we all love to do our spring cleaning. It is important to us to educate our families on cleaning supply safety and how we can keep our children safe. Many cleaning products can be confusing for children and may look like juice or candy. A child will not know the difference. Every 8 minutes, or 64,000 times each year, a young child goes to the emergency department for medicine poisoning. Here you will find some important information that will help you keep kids safe around medicine. Please join us to learn about the hazards that can be in your home and how you can keep children safe from potential dangers.

DID YOU KNOW
Most poisoning exposures are unintentional and the majority occur in children under the age of six. Approximately 90% of poisonings occur in the home. On average, poison control centers handle one poison exposure every 8 seconds. Each year, between 2 to 4 million actual poisonings occur in the United States.

- Safety Tips
- Store household products safely to prevent poisoning.
 - Keep all household cleaning products in their original containers
 - Read and follow product labels.
